A Kentuckian's Oxen.

A lecturer, so the story goes, riding down one of the rough mountain roads of Kentucky, observed a farmer plowing the rugged hillside with four oxen, to which he was shouting vociferously:
"Hi, there! you Methodists—Baptists—Campbellites—Presbyterians, a'lang, there!" Much astonished, he called the mountaineer to the fence and inquired: "Why do you call your oxen by such peculiar names?"

"Why, stranger," said the mountaineer, "them was the fittestest names I'd git. This yer Methodist, now is a good critter an' a willin' worker, but ever-out in a while he has to jump up and down and bawl. That ar Baptist is a pow'ful strong beast, but whenever he comes to a pool o' water he allers wants to lay down in it. That ar Campbellite is an a-numberous feller, an' does an honest day's work, but he's the stubbornest, contraryest critter that ever lived. An' this Presbyterian, he's the stupidest one in the hull lot. I can depend on him to keep them all together, but he's so stuck on himself that all the rest on 'em jes' naturally despises him."

You are not experimenting on yourself when you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a cold, as that preparation has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. It is equally valuable for adults and children and may be given to young children with implicit confidence as it contains no harmful drug. For sale by Stockton

Odd Facts About Rats.

"Never attack a rat in a closed room," says an old warehouseman who has had a world of experience in dealing with rodents. "Open a door or window and give it a chance to get away, even if you've got a dog to help you; you may be bitten if you don't. Rat bites are very dangerous. A rat eats all sorts of carriage and filth and then puts his dirty whiskers into anything else he wants to sample.

"Here's another idiosyncrasy of rats.
They logically carry out the principle of the survival of the fittest. And they are not merely suffragettes or suffragists, but the females absolutely boss the rat tribe. The slightest token of physical weakness is the signal for death at the teeth of its mother. About five rats survive from a nest of ten or fifteen.

"You never saw a rat that wasn't a perfect specimen. If the mothers did not have this trait the earth would be overrun with rats.

"Rats live and travel in colonies.
The head of the group is always an old female rat. When I start to clean up a settlement of rats I lay for the head female rat. If I catch and kill her the others disappear."—Ex.

WAR DECLARED.

Catarh Germs Must Be Conquered or Health Will be Destroyed.

If you have catarh, you must vanquish an army of persistent, destructive microbes before you get rid of it.
You might as well choose your weapons, declare war and annihilate this army of catarh germs right now.

Stomach dosing won't kill them; neither will sprays or douches.

HYOMEI, a pleasant, antiseptic, germ destroying air breathed, over the entire membrane will put catarh germs out of business in short order.
HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-may) is
